The information we receive depends on what you do when you visit our site.

If you visit our site to browse, read, upload, or download information:

- We collect and store: the name of the domain and host from which you access the Internet (for example, aol.com or princeton.edu); the Internet protocol (IP) address of the computer you are using; the browser software you use and your operating system; the date and time you access our site; and the Internet address of the web site from which you linked directly to our site.
- We use this information to measure the number of visitors to the different sections of our site, and to help us make our site more useful.

 *What are Cookies?

A "cookie" is a small text file that a web site can place on your computer's hard drive in order, for example, to collect information about your activities on the site. The cookie transmits this information back to the web site's computer that, generally speaking, is the only computer that can read it. Most consumers do not know that "cookies" are being placed on their computers when they visit web sites. If you want to know when this happens, or to prevent it from happening, you can set your browser to warn you when a web site attempts to place a "cookie" on your computer.

If you choose to identify yourself by sending us an email:

- We use information sent to us through the SUPPORT link in various ways to further our mission of providing immediate and accurate responses to concerns and requests for information. We may share the information you send with others if we believe that doing so will answer your questions or resolve a concern.
- Sjbdigital.com will cooperate fully with local, state, or federal officials in any investigation concerning or relating to any illegal activities conducted through this website.

Here's what you should know about the security of the information you provide to us:

- We do not use secure socket layer (SSL) encryption to protect the transmission of information you submit to us through online forms.
- You should also know that email is not necessarily secure against interception. If the information you are sending is of a sensitive nature, you should consider contacting us by other means.
- If you chose to contact us by other means, we may use the information you provide in the ways we have described in this privacy policy.
